ABOUT THIS GUIDE

When Esther first heard about the suffering of her people, she was deeply distressed. The weight of the moment was heavy. She could have turned away — let fear or uncertainty or even certain death hold her back. Instead, she sought truth. She listened to those who were directly impacted. And when the time came, she acted — not alone, but with the strength of a community that fasted and prayed alongside her.

This is that kind of moment.

Since January 2025, executive orders and ever-changing immigration enforcement have sent shockwaves through immigrant and refugee communities — throwing thousands of lives into uncertainty overnight. Refugee families who recently arrived faced homelessness, food insecurity and even detainment in ICE detention centers across state lines. Refugees and asylum-seekers who waited days, months and even years for safety have had doors slammed shut. Immigrants have been thrown into a sense of confusion and fear as their presence in our nation has been labeled a universal threat and brought into question. Policies that once protected people in vulnerable situations have been unraveled.

It's easy to feel powerless in the face of such sweeping and immediate change. But as people of faith, we know that before we step forward to advocate, we first step into prayer.

Like Esther, we seek God's heart. Like Esther, we do not do this alone.

This prayer guide is an invitation.

An invitation to lament, to intercede, to stand in the gap for immigrants, refugees and those who walk alongside them.

Every prayer in these pages has been written by women — women who are connected to these communities, who have witnessed the impact firsthand, who carry these burdens in their own hearts.

An invitation to lament, to intercede, to stand in the gap for immigrants, refugees and those who walk alongside them. Every prayer in these pages has been written by women — women who carry these burdens in their own hearts, who are connected to these communities or who have witnessed the impact firsthand.

May these prayers move us closer to God's heart. May they remind us that advocacy begins on our knees. And may they prepare us to step forward with courage, for such a time as this. 🕯️

A PRAYER FOR REFUGEES

by Rev. Tish Harrison Warren

Lord Jesus, who loves the refugee and whose family on earth sought refuge in a far off land to flee the violence of Herod, and who calls all nations and people from all nations to yourself, we pray for those men and women and vulnerable children in danger and trouble who need refuge.

Would you protect those experiencing religious persecution and violence? Would you protect the vulnerable? Would you turn the hearts of your church and America's leaders to compassion and righteousness and justice?

Help us love our refugee neighbors as we would want us and our children to be loved. Grant wisdom and grace to government leaders and to leaders in so many local churches that serve refugees, asylum-seekers and other immigrants.

Would you bring hope? Would you bring rescue? Would you bring justice?

In the powerful name of Jesus, we pray.

Amen. 🕯️

Rev. Tish Harrison Warren is an Anglican priest and former writer for The New York Times. She is the author of several books, including Liturgy of the Ordinary: Sacred Practices in Everyday Life, which won Christianity Today's 2018 Book of the Year, and Prayer in the Night: For Those Who Work, or Watch, or Weep. Tish has also worked in various churches and Christian non-profits for over two decades, serving as a parish priest, a campus minister and with those affected by poverty and addiction. A PRAYER FOR OUR WORLD AND PEOPLE ON THE MOVE

by Rev. Sabrina S. Chan

Loving God,
Our hearts break.
Our world is in turmoil.
Wars, oppression, famine and more.
People are migrating:
fleeing danger,
looking for a better life,
looking for safety.

Leaving behind hometowns, neighborhoods,
community,
family,
jobs.
Facing uncertainty,
hostility,
isolation,
new languages
and cultures to navigate to survive.

Scripture is full of stories of people on the move – journeying or forcefully taken to different lands.
“Love the stranger”, you say, “for you were strangers in Egypt.”
Jesus, you too were a young stranger in Egypt, fleeing death.

You see and love each image-bearer on the move.
We ask for an end to violence,
for more just governments and leaders.
For kindness,
welcome,
and protection for each one on the move.

And Holy Spirit, please help us, the church, to rise up – to love as you’ve called us to!
Help us
out of our complacency and paralysis to expand our hearts and to be your hands and feet in welcoming refugees, immigrants and the vulnerable.
Amen. 🕯

Rev. Sabrina S. Chan, a daughter of immigrants, is an author of Learning Our Names: Asian American Christians on Identity, Relationships, and Vocation. She serves as national director of Asian American Ministries for InterVarsity Christian Fellowship/USA, is an ordained minister and earned a master’s degree in theology from Fuller Theological Seminary.

“After this I looked, and there before me was a great multitude that no one could count, from every nation, tribe, people and language,

standing before the throne and before the Lamb.”

A PRAYER FOR RESILIENCE IN OUR IMMIGRANT COMMUNITIES

by Sandra María Van Opstal

God of our ancestors, God who journeys with us,
We come to you as a people who have been pressed but not crushed, Displaced but never without a home in you,

You see our struggle —
The policies that dehumanize,
The exhaustion of proving our worth,
The fear of being torn from the places we have tried to call home.
And yet, you are our refuge and strength,
An ever-present help in trouble.

Teach us resilience, not as something we must strive for,
But as a fruit you grow within us.

UNA ORACIÓN
POR LA RESILIENCIA EN
NUESTRAS COMUNIDADES INMIGRANTES

por Sandra María Van Opstal

Dios de nuestros ancestros,
Dios que camina con nosotros, Venimos a Ti como un pueblo que ha sido oprimido pero no destruido, Desplazado pero nunca sin un hogar en Ti.

Tú ves nuestra lucha —
Las políticas que nos
deshumanizan,
El agotamiento de tener que
probar nuestro valor,
El miedo a ser arrancados
de los lugares que hemos intentado llamar hogar.

Y sin embargo, Tú eres nuestro refugio y fortaleza, Nuestra ayuda siempre presente en tiempos de angustia.

Enséñanos la resiliencia,
no como algo que debemos
alcanzar,
Sino como un fruto que Tú
cultivas en nosotros.

Root us in Christ —
In his suffering, in his endurance, in his resurrection hope.

Let our faith be forged like the finest oil pressed from olives,
Like the richest wine drawn from grapes grown in dry, unyielding soil.
For we are a people shaped by struggle,
And yet, we endure.

In our communities, may we reflect and remember, May we stand together, holding each other up,
May we walk in honesty and vulnerability, Inviting humility, curiosity and faith to deepen our strength.

For those who are weary,
be our rest.
For those who grieve,
be our comfort.
For those who fight for justice,
be our courage.
For those who feel forgotten,
remind us that we are seen.

Arráiganos en Cristo — En Su sufrimiento, en Su resistencia, en Su esperanza de resurrección.

Que nuestra fe sea forjada como el mejor aceite,
Prensado de las olivas,
Como el vino más rico,
Extraído de uvas que crecen en suelo seco y árido.

Porque somos un pueblo
moldeado por la lucha,
Y aun así, perseveramos.

En nuestras comunidades,
que reflejemos y recordemos, Que nos sostengamos
mutuamente,
Que caminemos en honestidad
y vulnerabilidad, Invitando a la humildad, la curiosidad y la fe a profundizar nuestra fortaleza.

Para los que están cansados,
sé nuestro descanso.
Para los que lloran,
sé nuestro consuelo.
Para los que luchan por la justicia, sé nuestra valentía.
Para los que se sienten
olvidados, recuérdales que son vistos.

And when the world tells us that despair is our only option,
Teach us to lift our eyes —
To the hills, to the stories of our ancestors,
To the hope of your kingdom, already breaking through.

We stand, not in our own
strength,
But in the name of Jesus,
Who was a refugee, who suffered, who rose, who reigns.

Amen. 🔥

Y cuando el mundo nos
diga que la desesperanza
es nuestra única opción,

Enséñanos a levantar la mirada —
A las montañas, a las historias
de nuestros ancestros,
A la esperanza de Tu reino, que ya está irrumpiendo.

Nos mantenemos firmes, no en
nuestra propia fuerza,
Sino en el nombre de Jesús, Quien fue refugiado,
quien sufrió, quien
resucitó, quien reina.

Amén. 🔥

God of great mercy and love,

Be with those who find themselves on the migrant journey. We pray for unaccompanied children, families and individuals who are desperately seeking refuge and safety. For many, the journey is long and full of unknowns so we pray for courage, strength and peace.

Holy Spirit be near.

God of great mercy and love,

You are not bound by walls and borders. Grant us the courage to be the church you have called us to be. Grant us the boldness to be a people that live generously out of kindness and compassionate hospitality. Jesus, we want to be more like you.

Holy Spirit guide us.

Our Father in heaven,

We thank you for this new dawn, which brings with it new challenges. We pray for those on the move, that they may find their way, people, churches and communities that can offer them a place of rest, food to regain strength and words of encouragement, where your peace — which surpasses all understanding — may be reflected.

Padre nuestro que

Rogamos por los retos de las personas en movilidad, para que encuentren a su paso, personas, iglesias y comunidades que les den un espacio para descansar, un alimento para recobrar fuerzas y una palabra de aliento, en donde sea reflejada tu paz, que sobrepasa el entendimiento.

En el nombre de Jesús.

A PRAYER FOR RECENTLY ARRIVED REFUGEES TO THE U.S.

by Todun Afolabi

Abba,

Thank you for being a good Father through every season.

Thank you for your enduring presence in an ever-changing world.

Thank you for your promise and oath — two things that are unchanging as we see in Hebrews 6:18.

Therefore, we, who have fled for refuge, have great confidence as we hold to the hope that lies before us.
You are our safe place. You are our firm foundation.
Our confidence comes not from our own experience but from your consistent presence with each passing day. You are always within and around us.

Thank you for a hope that is a strong and trustworthy anchor for our souls. Thank you for the hope that leads us closer to you, knowing that you are already there with us. May we never lose sight of you, even now when it's hard to see beyond tomorrow.

You lead us and we will follow.

Amen. 🔥

FOR MIGRANT FAMILIES SEPARATED: A PRAYER OF LAMENT

by Quina Aragon

“The Lord watches over the sojourners; he upholds the widow and the fatherless, but the way of the wicked he brings to ruin.”

Psalm 146:9

Jesus, what you’ve brought together let none tear asunder.

“Amen,” we say at weddings, witnessing with glee two lovebirds become a new family.

Yet,

these — the very foundation of society — are being torn apart:

another baby ripped from her mother’s breast at the border

another wife watching her husband cuffed and cursed by an empire, which perceives these families a threat

as Pharaoh did the Hebrews as Herod did the babies of Bethlehem —

so these families face the sword of today:

policies that try to justify (with state-sanctioned might) hate.

We hear in their tears

“Rachel weeping for her children and refusing to be comforted, because they are no more.”¹

baby girls, baby boys caught in the crossfire of our empire's guile.

They come to our borders,
seeking asylum in the land of the free.
They are brave.
Impossible to overstate
what they already overcame.

O Lord, what can we say?
Isn't fear of the stranger costly?
Doesn't it sow seeds of such searing hypocrisy ripening to be reaped in whirlwind on this precious land?
Isn't there innocent blood on our flag-toting, citizenship-holding hands?

When our mouths feel stuck in the pit of our churning stomachs, we wonder: where to even begin?

Lord Jesus, we begin with lament.
Please end these family separations. 🔥

A PRAYER FOR REFUGEE AND IMMIGRANT MOTHERS

by Alexandra Hoover

God, your love abounds in faithfulness. You are the ultimate parent, the best Father, the One who cares for our children even more than we do. In the uncertainty of our journey, remind us that you go before us, making a way where there seems to be none. Help us to walk in peace, trusting your hand of grace and mercy even when the road is hard and unfamiliar.

Would you give us wisdom and discernment to mother well — to nurture, guide and protect our children with strength that comes from you? When we are weary, grant us rest. When we feel stretched beyond our limits, expand our capacity. When all seems lacking, be our provider, meeting every need in ways only you can.

Surround us with a community of kindness, hands that will help, and hearts that will welcome. Let our children feel safe, seen and loved — no matter where we are. Remind us that we are never alone — that even in the in-between, we are held by you.

Lord, for every mother who carries the weight of displacement, fear or loss, be her refuge. Replace fear with faith, sorrow with joy and uncertainty with the deep assurance that you are with her.

We entrust our children, our futures and our very lives into your faithful hands.

In Jesus' name,

Amen. 🕯️

A PRAYER FOR IMMIGRANT CHILDREN AND DREAMERS

by Liz Dong

Lord Jesus,

I bring before you the immigrant children traveling all over the world, moving from place to place in search of safety and stability.

When the world can feel so big and confusing, we find comfort that you see them and you hear their worries. We pray that you grant them a soft place to land for rest as well as an abundance of joy. May they feel your presence as they seek out opportunities to play and to be a kid in the midst of the unknown.

For those children who have grown up and are still waiting for answers, please grant us strength to pursue justice and compassion, and peace to know that our ultimate security is found in you and you alone.

Amen. 🕯️

Liz Dong came to the United States from China with her mom when she was just a young child. Growing up, all she ever knew was life in America. Liz is a DREAMer, (“Dreamer” or “DREAMer” refers to an immigrant youth who was brought to the U.S. as a minor and who remains undocumented) and has been a member of the board for World Relief since 2024.

A PRAYER FOR CHURCHES IN THE U.S. AND THE GLOBAL CHURCH

by Pricelis Dominguez

Jesus,
We, your beloved body, intercede for the global body.

We thank you for the gift it is to represent you on earth through our life, words, thoughts and actions. We thank you for empowering us to display the fruits of the living spirit of God and to create good works that serve the world.

We ask that you continue to cover your churches within the United States and all across the world. We pray that every church leadership team be edified and encouraged by you.

That every congregant that belongs to a church be seen and kept by you.

That every member of the body that is searching for a healthy church be carried and graced by you.

That every person that belongs to your body sees their beautiful presence within the church as purposeful and powerful.

Forgive us for the ways we have misrepresented or misunderstood you and lead us into your everlasting way. Help us display your kingdom here on earth so your will of justice, love, mercy, peace and joy for all would be evident in all countries, through all languages, and through every living soul on this blessed earth.

Keep our gaze on you as we walk obediently in rejoicing with those who rejoice, suffering with those who suffer and sharing the good news that is liberating for all. Give us eyes to see how we can be generous beyond what is asked and extend justice where injustice has reigned. May this be the work of the hands of every church that proclaims your name.

We submit to you and you alone.

In Jesus' unmatched name,
Amen. 🕯

know what love is:*

Jesus Christ laid down his life for us. And we ought to lay down our lives for our brothers and sisters. If anyone has material possessions and sees a brother or sister in need but has no pity on them, how can the love of God be in that person? Dear children, let us not love with words or speech but with actions and in truth."

A PRAYER FOR IMMIGRANT CHURCHES

by Ivette Valdez

God of the foreigner, God of the sojourner,
God of those who have traveled in search of refuge —
We come before you, lifting up immigrant churches, Communities of those who have left their homelands, yet have found a family of faith in Your house, united by love and hope.

We remember Ruth, who left her home and found shelter among your people.
We remember Jesus, Mary and Joseph, who fled danger and sought safety in a foreign land.
Lord, you are a strong tower and protector of those who seek home.

In this hour of uncertainty, when fear tries to paralyze, while policies threaten, and injustice looms —

ORACIÓN PARA LAS IGLESIAS INMIGRANTES

por Ivette Valdez

Dios del extranjero, Dios del peregrino,
Dios de aquellos que han viajado en busca de refugio —
Venimos ante Ti, elevando en oración a las iglesias de inmigrantes, Comunidades de aquellos que han dejado su tierra natal, pero han encontrado una familia de fe en Tu casa, unidos por el amor y la esperanza.

Recordamos a Rut, quien dejó su hogar y halló refugio entre Tu pueblo.
Recordamos a Jesús, María y José, quienes huyeron del peligro y buscaron seguridad en tierra extranjera.
Señor, Tú eres torre fuerte y protector de quienes buscan un hogar.

En esta hora de incertidumbre, cuando el miedo intenta paralizar, cuando las políticas amenazan y la injusticia acecha —

We ask that you send your Spirit to comfort and empower your church.

We are your body — when one suffers, we all share in the tears, the grief and the deep lament.

Lord, make your presence known among your people.

We pray for pastors — those entrusted to shepherd and care for your people.

Grant them strength and wisdom to lead with conviction and compassion.

Be a shield to the vulnerable.
Be a defender of the weary.
Be a refuge for the displaced.
For you are the God who sees, the God who provides, the God who protects.

Comfort Your people, O Lord.
May they be strong and courageous, not given to fear or panic,
but trusting in the promise that you go before them,
that you will never fail nor abandon them.

Pedimos que envíes Tu Espíritu para consolar y fortalecer a Tu Iglesia.

Somos Tu Cuerpo — cuando uno sufre, todos compartimos en las lágrimas, el dolor y el lamento profundo.

Señor, haz sentir Tu presencia en medio de Tu pueblo.

Oramos por los pastores, aquellos a quienes has confiado el cuidado y la guía de Tu pueblo.

Concédeles fuerza y sabiduría para liderar con convicción y compasión.

Sé escudo para el vulnerable.
Sé defensor del cansado.
Sé refugio para el desplazado.
Porque Tú eres el Dios que ve, el Dios que provee, el Dios que protege.

Consuela a Tu pueblo, oh Señor.
Que sean fuertes y valientes, que no caigan en el miedo ni en la angustia, sino que confíen en la promesa de que Tú vas delante de ellos, que nunca los abandonarás ni fallarás.

We place our trust in you, our shelter, our strength, our home.

Amen.

En Ti depositamos nuestra confianza. Tu eres nuestro refugio, nuestra fortaleza, nuestro hogar.

A PRAYER FOR PERSECUTED CHRISTIANS

by Chelsea Sobolik

El Roi — the God who sees.

We come before you, burdened by the suffering of our brothers and sisters around the world who face persecution for their faith in you. You are the God who sees, the God who hears the cries of the oppressed and the God who is ever-present in times of trouble. We lift up to you those who are imprisoned, tortured, displaced or rejected because they have chosen to follow Jesus. Surround them with your peace that surpasses all understanding, and remind them that great will be their reward in heaven.

Lord, give them courage to endure the trials they face. Strengthen their faith when fear and weariness threaten to overwhelm them. Let them feel your comforting presence, reminding them they are not alone. Raise up voices to advocate for their freedom and dignity. We pray for those in power — governments, leaders and oppressors — soften their hearts and turn them toward truth, justice and mercy. For such a time as this.

Our world is desperate for salvation, and you alone offer forgiveness and abundant life. You've called Christians to proclaim the good news — please give us resolute spirits to tell others about our great God.

May we regularly intercede for our brothers and sisters and not grow weary in doing good.

We pray all this in the powerful name of Jesus,

Amen.

A PRAYER FOR OUR RELATIONSHIPS AND DISCOURSE

by Kathryn Freeman

Dear Heavenly Father,

Thank you for the gift of community and the difference in creativity, knowledge and abilities that exist within our community. Lord, we are in a challenging time where difference threatens to divide us rather than unite us under a common purpose to love you and our neighbors. This divide has made it difficult to share our hearts and our struggles. But Lord, we know you are bigger and nothing will conquer your bride — the church.

So, we pray for wisdom and discernment in our conversations about the very real issues facing our neighbors and our families. Things that seem political but have an impact on the flourishing of those around us, on their ability to work, feed their families, send their kids to school, breathe clean air, drive on safe roads and live healthy and fulfilling lives. Knowing this, we pray against the spirit of fear that would silence us when we need to be loud and the spirit of pride that keeps us from listening to others share their hearts and struggles.

We pray that in discussing the real impacts of policy decisions by our elected leaders that we would be led by the fruits of the spirit: kindness, peace, gentleness, self-control, joy, patience, and most of all, love. Love for justice, love for our neighbors and their well-being, love for the least and the lost but most of all, Lord, love for you.

Amen.

Kathryn Freeman serves as the National Advocacy & Operations Specialist at World Relief. She is passionate about Jesus, justice, and Beyonce. She is a member of Concord Church in Dallas, TX.

A PRAYER FOR DISCERNMENT AND COURAGE IN OUR ADVOCACY

by Jess Galván

God Almighty,

You are breathing, living Spirit within us. Thank you for your mercy and the divine gift of the Holy Spirit, our advocate. A helper we rely on when our weariness begins to seep in. Point us always back to you.

May your Holy Spirit fill us with the capacity to pursue justice and to declare the truth when it can feel easier to stay quiet. In our pursuit of the truth, guide and direct us so that we are genuinely transformed to live out a bold love for our neighbor, the foreigner and the sojourner. Break our hearts for our neighbor and like the glass cup forged and bent in fire, may we come out blazing, reflecting your light in our mission. Remind us, daily, that love and compassion is not a sign of weakness but of our direct resolve to be like Jesus.

Give us the courage to advocate and not lose sight of the God-given dignity of refugees and other immigrants fleeing the most horrifying of circumstances. Prompt us to move, rooted in a faith anchored in love. Nudge us closer and closer to truth to bring glory to your creation. May the Holy Spirit serve as our dependable guide, showing us the way.

Amen. 🔥

Jess Galván is the Sr. Content Specialist at World Relief, an advisor for Chasing Justice, writer, editor and a proud daughter/granddaughter of Mexican immigrants. PRAYER FOR LOVING YOUR NEIGHBOR

by Bri Stensrud

Lord in heaven,
Our ways are not your ways.

You have told us in your Word to love you with our whole heart and then love our neighbors as we would love our own bodies, our families and our friends.

This is a radical way of living, Lord, so would you help us love as you intended your followers to do?

The ways in which we serve and see our neighbors must deepen.
It cannot look like the ordinary.
It cannot look like what we've always done.

Lord give us wisdom.

In the days ahead, I believe you're going to ask us to love people in ways we may have never thought of loving them before.

Remind us to look for our neighbor.
Give us eyes to see our neighbor.
Give us the courage to walk with our neighbor like we never have before.

Give us your Kingdom priorities.
Reorient our lives to this end.

We throw our fears at your feet and ask for courage.

People over politics.
People over platform.
People over comfort.
People over convenience.

Lord, let it be so.
Help me to love my neighbor as myself.

We ask these things in Jesus name,

Amen. 🔥

ABOUT WORLD RELIEF

In 1944, Europe was enveloped by a tremendous displacement crisis as World War II raged. In response to the desperate situation, members of Park Street Church in Boston fasted during the Lenten season and collected the funds they saved in an offering to meet the needs of displaced Europeans. Other churches joined in and out of this compassionate response, World Relief was born. Since our founding, we've spent the last 80 years convening the global church, in all its expressions. It is World Relief's mission to boldly engage the world's greatest crises in partnership with the church.

While we're proud of the work we've done and the change we've made, we know that the true essence of World Relief is found in people like you — the advocates who pray fervently and fight for change. It's found in the community members who care deeply and serve generously, and in the donors who give abundantly and pray faithfully.

Our work has always been rooted in ordinary people in community as the church sees people as Jesus saw them, naturally teaching and doing the things Jesus did in the way Jesus did, with the attitude Jesus had and with the objectives and outcomes Jesus had. For 80 years, World Relief has witnessed countless stories of faith, hope and transformation as they've unfolded. Now, we invite you into those stories. As you pray, ask the Lord to direct your next steps. 🔥
